Who is Fawkner Property Pty Ltd?

Fawkner Property is a private property syndication company, with an Australian Financial Services Licence (AFSL) issued by ASIC authorising Fawkner Property to promote property syndicates to sophisticated or high net worth (wholesale) investors.

Fawkner Property syndicates are simple and transparent unit trusts. Through the unit trust, the investors own the property. The trustee of the trusts and the issuer of the interests in the managed investment schemes is Farrell Heidelberg Pty Ltd (ABN: 58 147 256 316), which has common directors with Fawkner Property. Fawkner Property receives fees for managing the trusts.

Fawkner Property uses the experience of its directors and investment committee to purchase properties which provide reliable income returns with limited risk to capital. With sensible gearing, Fawkner Property uses non-recourse bank finance to pass on to investors the benefits of currently available interest rates on commercial property loans, through higher income.
